

American Born Chinese Chapters 2-4 Analysis

Directions: Today you are going to complete an analysis of each of the following panels in American Born Chinese reading. You have a topic and page numbers – put down as many observations as possible and list what they mean/what we learn from these details. While looking at the parents on pages 23 and 25 you may find up to 4 observations – please try your best to example a possible meaning for each observation, even if some observations have similar meanings.
